NOTES:

Refers to the Session Number and matches the tab in your binders.

☉ Margaret will be starting our day with a nutritious smoothie and muffins, providing most lunch breaks with soups, stews and hearty breads or other nutritious treats, and welcome reception finger foods – all made with love and infused with spirituality.

☒ While we are gaining sustenance Sandi will be checking in with students to see how they are processing activities.

☽ On your own for supper. You can bring food to the Centre and stay here or you can go out – whichever is the most restful for you. We have a microwave and fridge, four beautiful decks, woods with a trail at the end of the street and the River at the end of the potato field out back.

17. 10am-12:30pm Margaret Feature Therapy: Gestalt

- ✂ Founded by Fritz Pearls and Laura Pearls in 1940's and early 1950's – other people associated with founding are Ralph Hefferline and Paul Goodman.
- ✂ Gestalt, roughly translated from German means the whole (person) is greater than the sum of the (his) parts.
- ✂ Paradoxical Theory of Change – person changes when he becomes who he is, not when he tries to be what he is not.
- ✂ Emphasis is on awareness of client's experience in the present moment – the 'how' and 'what' of his behaviour in the here and now. In order to deal with the past and future, they are brought into the present.
- ✂ Person is not separate from his environment – needs are met through interaction with the environment. As a need emerges the person looks to his environment for satisfaction or closure of this need. We take from our environment air and food to survive physically. Gasping or hunger leaves us unfulfilled and these feelings will dominate our awareness or behaviour until satisfied. The same is true with unexpressed feelings or resentments that stay with us and interrupt our present interactions with other people (our environment).
- ✂ Aim is to have client become responsible for his life and not manipulate his environment to do for him, or blame others or act helpless. Responsibility – is ability to respond to what is happening in the present and achieve satisfaction for one's self.
- ✂ Another aim is integration, where by the client acts as a complete whole – his feelings and behaviour and thoughts and perceptions all match. As such the person works on his unfinished business and begins to own those parts of himself he has projected onto others.
- ✂ Essence of relationship between therapist and client is their shared humanness.
- ✂ Many Institutes around the world – principles and techniques the same but style of therapists are different – i.e. supportive or frustrating.
- ✂ Client needs to have a certain amount of self and environmental awareness to respond to Gestalt therapy – needs some concept of reality.
- ✂ Training at Gestalt Institute of Toronto offers training programs that are anywhere from 1 to 4 years. To become certified Gestalt Therapist takes four years. The one year program is offered to existing counsellors or therapists and trains them in Gestalt theory and methods.

Margaret Flood

Gestalt Practitioner, BA(Hon. Soc. Dev. St.), CASC

To become a Gestalt Therapist I undertook a 3 year training program with the Gestalt Institute of Toronto - trained with Jorge Rosner who trained with Fritz Pearls. I also have an Honours BA from Waterloo – the degree says Social Development Studies - most of the courses are in psychology and relationship counselling.

I started a Psychology degree at Carleton University but discovered rats and pigeons were not very appealing to me. I moved to Waterloo after 2 years and completed my degree in the Social Development Studies Program. The emphasis here was on therapy and I was introduced to Gestalt and Rogerian counselling.

After graduating I was accepted into the Gestalt Institute of Ottawa which was a branch of the Toronto Institute. The trainers were from Toronto and we often travelled to Toronto and also Chicago for week-end or longer sessions. The emphasis of the training is on the student's own therapy - the belief being that you can't take anyone further than you have gone yourself. Beyond this are the Gestalt principals and techniques. After the training I had a small practice in Ottawa for a year. I also worked with children and teenagers through the Children's Aid and The Youth Services Bureau for 2 years.

I moved to Inuvik in the North West Territories and was employed by Social Services for a year as a youth worker and also as probation and parole officer. Six years and 2 children later I worked as counsellor and Executive Director at a shelter for abused women on Baffin Island. I also spent a year in Yellowknife writing a newsletter that connected all the shelters within the North West Territories. About a year and a half ago I started to see clients again. It had been a long time, mostly taken up by raising 3 wonderful boys. I have also started Reiki training (level 1&2) and I have Level 1 Therapeutic Touch. Peter Mutch
MSc BMT MTA CCC

After completing his degree in music therapy at Acadia University, Peter stayed in the Wolfville area to do his music therapy internship working with children, adults, and seniors with various physical, mental, and emotional needs.

Seven years ago Peter moved back to PEI and opened a private practice. During that time Peter decided to pursue his MSc in Mental Health Counselling to allow him an opportunity to provide mental health supports beyond music therapy to the community. His internship focus was with families involved with the Provincial Palliative Care Unit.

Recently, Peter left his private practice and took the position of Executive Director of the Catholic Family Service Bureau. Aside from his new administrative duties, Peter continues to do some clinical work with children, adults, and seniors.

Susan Guttridge
BA, MC, Canadian Certified Counsellor

Susan has a MA in Counselling Psychology (University of Calgary) and expertise in trauma therapy, PTSD, and the impact of abuse against women and 10+ years counselling experience.

The Counselling Trac Software System grew out of the need for a user-friendly, secure, and affordable case management system for Counselling professionals. During the course of my education and training, the importance of documentation was always emphasized. After graduating, I worked for several accredited agencies and thus became accustomed to standard record keeping practices. Documentation was maintained via a software program which I found difficult to navigate and inflexible for a diverse range of client needs, presenting problems, goals, and outcomes. Writing a simple case note or report became a lengthy procedure with countless drop-down menus and scores of selection fields. My colleagues and I began to dread documentation and the software system itself took on a menacing guise!

The solution? I teamed up with Martech Solutions Inc., a software development firm located in British Columbia, and started brainstorming what a case management system would look like from a Counsellors perspective. Since our early days in 2008, the Counselling Trac System has grown in functionality, it is offered in English and French, and our customer base has grown from 1 to over 100 customers!

area and across Canada. She is a certified practitioner of Neuro-linguistic Programming and EMDR. Rosalind is keenly interested in the life of the body, and in the process of freeing one's spirit to be truly present to the self and the other.

Rev. Philip Waldrop
OUnI, M.R.P., M.B.A and Chair of AWAIC, Ordination by Sanction Candidate

Following a Roman Catholic upbringing, including a Jesuit education, Rev. Philip went to the public University of Michigan. Here he experienced prayer meetings and the charismatic renewal. Travels abroad, an environmental-oriented Masters in Regional Planning, then joining the business world after a Masters in Business Administration continually broadened him, while the experiences of marriage and raising three now-adult children kept him grounded. A move to the New York City area, then the events of September 11, 2001 sparked further growth. This included the honest step of coming out and recognizing a spiritual bent - including healing gifts. All this led Rev. Phillip to pursue Interfaith ministry, and after seminary training at The New Seminary, he was ordained in 2007.

While continuing in the business world, Rev. Philip served two years as dean of first year students at The New Seminary, was asked to join the Board of A World Alliance of Interfaith Clergy (AWAIC) in 2008 and was elected as its Board Chair in the autumn of 2010. With the assistance of a dedicated Board and a growing membership, A WAIC has become more professional and continues to grow into its name.

Rev. Phillip is also chairing the Continuing Education program development committee, and building relationships among Interfaith seminaries, schools and institutes – both in the United States and internationally. In 2009, he attended the Parliament of the World's Religions in Melbourne as a “Parliament Ambassador.” Amidst all this, Rev. Philip does occasional public speaking, sermons, worship services, weddings and other Interfaith services, as well as energy healing based on gifts and training in several modalities.
